Dear John,

This is Li Ming, your roommate to-be. I am writing this letter with my full heart for the purpose of conveying that I am so happy to have this opportunity to live with one local student.

As we all know, it is difficult for the people from different cultural backgrounds to communicate with each other well. Thus, it is rather necessary for us to share our living habits to each other. I normally go to bed before 11pm, and wake up around 6am, which has been proved to be a healthy timetable. And I really hope it would not affect you. What's more, I prefer reading much, so nearly all the pastime, I was in the school library. Just as what you have been informed, this is the first time I go abroad. Thus, if you can provide me with some further information about living there, it would be much better.

Thanks a lot for your attention to this letter. Please feel free to tell me your living habits. And I am looking forward to your reply.

Yours,
Li Ming

7、

Dear John,

I am a student of China, and I am writing this letter for the purpose of telling you that I am going to study abroad in your country and we will share one apartment during my time in your country.

I am glad to communicate with you some of my living habits so that we will have a more harmonious living atmosphere. First, I always go to sleep at 10 o'clock at night and get up at 6 o'clock in the morning. Second, I hope our room is clear and tidy, which is very helpful for us to keep a good mood. Third, I don't want strangers come to our room when we are outside, so we need remember to lock our room when we get out.

As you may know that this is my first time to study abroad, so I have a lot of questions on how to adapt to the life there, I wonder could you please give me some advices on how to adjust the life there? Thank you ahead for your kindness.

Yours sincerely,
Liming

8、

Dear John,

I'm very pleased that we will become roommates during my study in Princeton University. This letter is to introduce some of my living habits to you so that we can happily share an apartment.

To begin with, I am used to rising early and going outside to do sports games owing to the fact that the air is always fresh in the morning. What's more, I always like going to bed late on weekends' nights in order to read books. Another of my habits is that I like taking a shower after playing basketballs. In addition, I also want to consult some proposals about living there. If you could inform me of the climate there, the living cost, and the distance between our dorm and our university, it will be highly appreciated.

If you have any living habits, please do not hesitate to write to me. I'm looking forward to your early reply.

Yours sincerely,
Li Ming

9、

Dear John,

I'm so happy that we will live together for a long time in the future.

And I hope that you can offer me some suggestions about living there, as I have never been abroad before.

Here are some details, to begin with, I usually get up early in the morning at six o'clock and then go out to do some exercise. To continue, I would like to spend my spare time in reading in the library, because I love a quiet environment. Meanwhile, I wonder if you could be so kind to offer me some proposals on how to get used to the life there.

I am looking forward to seeing you soon and wish everything goes well.

Yours Sincerely,
Li Ming

Dear John,

I am Li Ming from China. And I am very glad to write this email to you. As you may have heard as well, I will be your roommate very soon. So I would like to introduce some of my living habits briefly first and ask for some advice for living there.

Personally, I like to stay in a peaceful room where I could focus on studying. But I am always happy to help others when necessary. In addition, I would prefer to go to bed early at night instead of being a night owl. Also, as Chinese, I am very fond of getting together with others. So if you want to have parties with other classmates now and then, that is welcome too. At last, what are your living habits as a local? I really appreciate it if you could give me some living advice to help me adapt to the life there.

I am looking forward to seeing you in our new semester soon. Cannot wait to hear back from you!

Yours sincerely,
Li Ming
