Write an essay of 160-200 words based on the following pictures.

In your essay, you should

- 1) describe the pictures briefly,
- 2) interpret the meaning, and
- 3) give your comments.

You should write neatly on the ANSWER SHEET. (20 points)

参考范文：

This is a plain but enlightening set of pictures. As is vividly depicted in the first one, one person is sitting in front of shelves of books, claiming complacently that he has a large number of books, while in the second picture, another person says that he has already finished reading 20 books. The caption reads "Having books and reading books" .

Simple as the picture is, the meaning behind it is far-reaching. Evidently, it is meant to reveal the importance of a personal quality: acting or practicing rather than talking or thinking. With such a quality, one can overcome almost all difficulties; otherwise, he or she would be defeated by unworthy enemies. Taking a look around, one can spot examples too many to enumerate. The most typical one might be Ma Yun. A number of factors may have contributed to her success, but the crucial one might be her spirit of acting in time.

Bringing what has been discussed into a conclusion, we may say that acting in time plays a vital role on our way to success. Therefore, we should truly understand the profound meaning of the picture and try various means to cultivate this desirable quality.

参考范文：

This is a simple but meaningful drawing. As can be seen in it, a college student is sitting in front of a computer, confused as to which optional course to register for: one can be passed easily with a high score and little homework while the other is challenging but provides new knowledge and emphasizes creativity.

Simple as the drawing is, the message it conveys is thought-provoking. Evidently, it is meant to reveal the dilemma facing a number of college students: to go after high scores or to acquire more knowledge and cultivate ability. A multitude of factors may account for this phenomenon, but the leading one might be the fact that the school or the employer makes a point of students' scores when evaluating them. Scores are closely related to various opportunities, including scholarships and job offers. Such being the case, many students have to give up their intentions to register for courses that are really valuable to them in content.

In view of the seriousness of the situation, effective measures must be taken to curb the trend. In the first place, it is imperative that the school and employer change their standard of evaluating students, taking more into consideration students' real amount of knowledge and actual ability.

In the second place, students should enhance their awareness of mastering as much knowledge as possible.

Write your essay on ANSWER SHEET. (15 points)

You should

1) Interpret the chart, and

2) Give your comments.

You should write about 150 words on the ANSWER SHEET. (1

参考范文：

This is a simple but informative chart. As we can see in it, there have been dramatic changes in the number of museums and the number of museum-visitors in the past years. In 2013, there were 4165 museums and 6378 visitors. However, two years later, the numbers soared to 4692 and 7811 respectively.

A number of factors could account for the change in the chart, but the following are the most critical ones. First, thanks to the policy of reform and opening-up, the nation' s economy has been developing at a considerably high speed in the past decades. Therefore, both the government and common people have more extra to spend on museums.

Secondly, other relevant state policies and the boom of relevant industries provide citizens with more opportunities to visit museums. Last but not least, people have changed their concept of consumption and attached greater importance to broadening their horizon. Thus, more of them have chosen to visit museums.

In a word, this chart is a perfect index of China' s fast developing society and people' s rising standard of spiritual life. Although a series of problems have arisen in the process, it is reasonable for us to believe that they can be solved in the near future with effective measures taken by both the government and the public.

2017年某市消费者选择餐厅时的关注因素

参考范文：

This is a simple but informative chart. As is explicitly illustrated in it, consumers in a city choose the restaurant to go to according to various factors: the feature makes up 36.3%; service composes 27.4%; the environment accounts for 24.3%; price constitutes 7.3%; other factors occupy 4.7%.

A number of factors may account for this phenomenon, but the following are the most critical ones. The first and most noticeable reason is the fact that the country's economy has been developing at a high speed in the past decades, raising people's income considerably. Therefore, they do not have to care much about the price now. In the second place, the boom of the foodservice industry has provided the public with a larger variety of choices. Last but not least, people have changed their concept of consumption and laid more emphasis on such aspects as the environment, the feature as well as the service of restaurants.

Taking into consideration what has been mentioned above, we may safely come into the conclusion that the chart is a perfect index of the nation's economy, society as well as people's rising standard of living. Though a series of problems may exist, we have reasons to believe that they can be solved in the near future with effective measures taken by the government and the public.

Dear Professor Cook,

How are you? I hope you find your stay here pleasant. Now I am writing to recommend you some tourist attractions here in Beijing, which you may find interesting.

First, as you may have heard of, the Forbidden City and the Temple of Heaven are musts for foreign visitors, for they stand for the summit of ancient Chinese imperial power and the art of architecture. Secondly, you may want to visit the Summer Palace, which boasts some of the gorgeous views in Beijing. Lastly, you may go to Houhai or Nanluoguxiang, where there are both traditional lanes and modern bars. You can do some shopping and try some local food there.

I hope that the information above can be of help to you, and if you have any question, please do not hesitate to ask me. I wish you have a nice stay here. And if you need, I would be glad to be your tour guide.

Yours sincerely,

Zhang Wei
