第三部分 谋篇布局2013 年作文真题

“Dear Andy-How are you? Your mother and I are fine. We both miss you and hope you are doing well. We look forward to seeing you again the next time your computer crashes and you come down-stairs for something to eat, Mom and Dad.”

You should start your essay with a brief account of the impact of the Internet on the way people communicate and then explain whether electronic communication can replace face-to-face contact. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

范文：

As is graphically depicted by the picture, a couple is talking with their son, saying that “you can come downstairs when your computer crashes and need something to eat,” suggesting the impact of the internet on our communication. This picture is a mirror of the common phenomenon that an increasing number of people are addicting themselves to the internet, which is very thought-provoking.

The internet is increasingly popular, nevertheless, it will not replace face-to-face contact. There are two factors accounting for my opinion. In the first place, face-to-face communication plays an indispensable role in our interpersonal relationship; in the second place, electronic communication can, directly or indirectly, bring negative influence on our mutual understanding. Therefore, I do believe that the internet contact will never replace face-to-face communication.

It is high time that we took measures to encourage face-to-face contact. There is no doubt in saying that we must prevent too much electronic communication. Only by doing this can we build up a harmonious interpersonal relationship.
